LANCASTER.

Messrs. W. B. Mason and J. W. Hamilton have bought a lot of horses and vehicles and they will open a livery stable near the Mason Hotel.

Over 100 seats have been sold for the "Uncle Josh" Play, the laughing success, which will appear at the opera house Thursday Feb. 8th. Admission 25 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at McRoberts' 75c.

Mr. R. P. Poynter, of Glasgow, has purchased an interest in the Lancaster Flouring Mills and they now operate under the firm name of Ward & Poynter. R. G. Ward has leased the planing mill and has full charge of it. Mr. George D. Wearan paid me a pleasant call Saturday.

INTERIOR JOURNALS were in demand here Friday. The fearless, forcible and brilliant expressions of the editor, Judge Sausley, Col. Welch, Hon. R. C. Warren, P. M. McRoberts and others in reference to the situation at Frankfort, were regarded as the true statement of facts.

Answering Dr. J. L. Slavin, osteopathist at Danville, in reference to my item in last issue, physicians claim that they want no more required of the osteopathist than was required of them, and that is to require students of osteopathy to be examined before receiving a diploma, at least on anatomy, physiology and pathology.

Messrs. J. I. Hamilton and Rice Beuge shipped a car load of mules to the Southern market Saturday. Prof. J. H. Patterson has another son, which he says is no news item at his house, being a frequent occurrence. C. D. Powell & Co. have opened a general merchandise store on the Northwest corner of Richmond avenue and Campbell street. Miss Bertie Hilton has recovered from a severe cold.

Answering Hon. F. F. Bobbitt's question, "Is the earth nearer the sun in summer than in winter?" I would state that we are more than 3,000,000 miles nearer the sun on the 1st of Jan. than on the 1st of July. Measured by a telescope, the sun appears 1-30th larger in January than it does in July, which proves the difference in distance given above. The inclination of the earth's axis causes the sun's rays to fall obliquely in winter, and less heat is felt, although we are nearer the sun.

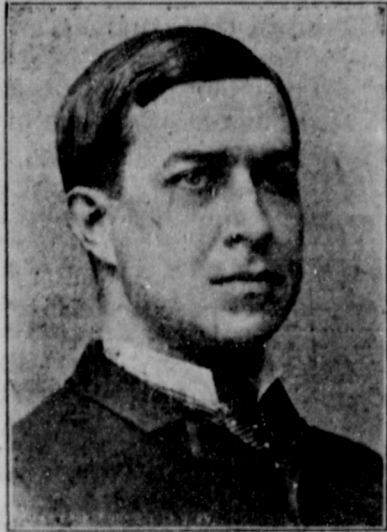

Mrs. Harriet Glascock Huli, who is well known here, having managed an attraction in this city before and who is very intelligent, is preparing a minstrel, known as the "Black Bird Show," with the best local talent in Lancaster. Cake walking, cornfield dancing, the latest "coon" songs, gags, jokes etc., will be on tap with Letcher Owsley and Charley Anderson as end men. Picking songs and dances by 40 children. Admission 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at McRoberts' drug store. At opera house Friday, Feb. 9.

Judge J. C. Hemphill will go to New Orleans this week on business and while there he will visit his cousin, Mr. J. M. Leavel. J. E. Robinson has returned from Joseph Price Infirmary, where he is being treated for catarrh, much improved. Mr. Fred Schenck is on the sick list. H. A. B. Marksberry has been to Cincinnati on business. Col. J. W. Miller is known as our political prophet, having predicted a dual government in Kentucky some time ago.

Business is at a standstill and men gather in groups to hear of the doings at Frankfort and to express sorrow over the untimely death of Gov. Goebel, the bitterest condemnation of the assassins and unwarranted acts of usurper Taylor and his hosts. The condition of affairs is laid at the doors of those who sulked in camp after the nomination, unscrupulous newspapers and 8x10 stump speakers, who cried for blood and encouraged the coming of the mountaineers to Frankfort, as well as those who kept them while in the city. These things together with the facts that the shots were fired from the executive building and no search was made for the assassins, will be recorded against the republican party and the significant remark of Gov. Goebel that his death would be to the democratic party what the sinking of the Maine was to Cuba, will be realized in its full force and meaning. The last words of Gov. Goebel proved that he was a friend to the common people, as his life proved it by seeking to legislate against the oppression and extortion of corporations, and, whether the wild rose or the chisled marble marks his resting place, his cause will live in the hearts of the people and they will revere his name. Secular history gives no account of such a noble man dying a martyr to such a noble cause. I had rather be Gov. Goebel, sleeping in death, with the brilliant record behind me, than to be W. S. Taylor, with his armed hosts, usurping power and trampling law under foot. But let us be cool and remain true to the constitution and enforcement of the laws and we will triumph.

Conquered Only By Death!

GOV. WILLIAM GOEBEL.

A Martyr To The People's Cause.

DEAD!

Kentucky's Greatest Man Breathes His Last.

Burial To Be At Frankfort Thursday.

The apparently improved condition of Gov. Goebel up to Saturday morning had led the people to hope and believe that he would come out conqueror even over death, but about noon that day he was taken with nausea and hiccuping and sank rapidly till the end came at 6:45 the same evening. He was kept alive only by stimulants for hours with the hope that his brother, Justus, who was coming on a special from Arizona, might see him alive again, but he died an hour before his arrival, his other brother, Arthur, and sister, Mrs. Minnie Bronnecker, being the only persons present for some time previous to his death, by his special request. During the afternoon several preachers prayed fervently for him and he made a partial confession of religion. He urged his followers to continue resting their claims upon the law and do nothing imprudent, adding "Tell my friends to be brave and fearless and loyal to the great common people."

After much solicitation from friends of the great leader, the family of Gov. Goebel agreed that the State, for which he devoted his life, should have his body in death, and his remains will be interred in the historic cemetery at Frankfort, where Kentuckians can do him honor along with the other illustrious men of his line. It was stipulated, however, that in obedience to the wishes of his friends and neighbors at Covington that the remains be taken there and lie in state from 8:30 A. M. today till 10 P. M. and then be returned to Frankfort Wednesday and on Thursday be consigned to the earth. Taylor is said to have agreed to withdraw his outlaw troops from the Statehouse while the body lay in state. But there is not a friend of the late Gov. Goebel, who for one moment would consent that his body should be carried anywhere by the grace of Taylor and within sight of a single bayonet.

A HIGHLY APPRECIATED LETTER.

MT. VERNON, KY., Feb. 3.
DEAR EDITOR:—All good democrats felt yesterday, even those who did not say it, "Hurrah for the I. J." Your noble editorial expresses our deep feelings concerning the recent crimes as nearly as words can express the wrath of an outraged people. We are anxiously waiting to shake hands with those never failing champions of democracy, Judge M. C. Sausley, Hon. R. C. Warren and Col. W. G. Welch. We women feel no less deeply upon this subject than do the men and our prayers are ever going out for the recovery of Gov. Goebel and the prosperity of his earnest advocate, the I. J.

Your reader and friend,
IDA MAY ADAMS.

When warned of the fate that so soon befell him, Mr. Goebel is reputed to have said in substance: "Oh, well, if I am shot down the result will be to the democracy of Kentucky what the blowing up of the Maine was to Cuba." And truer words and more faithful prophecy was never spoken.

Born, Jan. 4, 1856, in Pennsylvania, William Goebel came with his father and mother to Covington when he was seven years old. After getting a common school education he was apprenticed to a jeweler to learn the trade, but after a short time surprised his father by telling him that he had made up his mind to be a lawyer. Gov. Stephenson took him in his office and a friendship sprang up between them that became as strong as the affection of father and son, and when the old gentleman died he left him executor of his large estate without security. He graduated at the Cincinnati Law School, at which the governor was a lecturer, before he was 21 and a few months later, on the governor's advice, began a special course at Kenyon College. His father died after two months and he had to return home, where in a few years he became the law partner of John G. Carlisle, which lasted five years. At the end of that time he became the partner of Gov. Stephenson and remained so till the latter's death. His active political career began in 1887 when he was elected to the State Senate and again for two more terms. He was a member of the constitutional convention. His public record is an open book and no suspicion of corruption was ever breathed against him. He was faithful to duty, even unto death, and the people recognizing it, loved to do him honor. Self-reliant, brave and clear headed and possessed of indomitable perseverance, he nearly always carried his point and inspired that confidence that made him so great a leader of men. That a man like him should be sacrificed to keep such a counterfeit as Taylor in office seems a cruel dispensation of Providence, hard indeed to fathom. But Goebel dead is more to be envied than the cringing, cowardly creature, misnamed a man, who was surrounded with Gatling guns and bayonets to keep him from being punished for the murder, of which he is more than particeps criminis.

Just before Gov. Goebel breathed his last Arthur Goebel told him that the women were in the parlor praying for him. "Tell them I'll carry their memories with me into the great beyond," he said, and these were about the last words he uttered.

TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY:

It is with the profoundest sorrow that we announce the death of Gov. William Goebel.

In his last moments he counseled his friends to keep cool and bow to the law in all things.

We, his friends and advisers, beg of the people of Kentucky in this hour of affliction to carefully abstain from any act of violence or resort to mob law.

It would be his wish if he were alive that there should be absolutely no stain left on his memory by any imprudent act of any who were his friends.

The law is supreme, and must in time be re-established, and all the wrongs he and his party have suffered will find their proper redress.

Signed by J. C. S. Blackburn, Urey Woodson, J. B. McCreary, Jas. Andrew Scott, B. W. Bradburn, C. C. McChord, L. H. Carter, Speaker pro tem. of the Senate, William S. Pryor, C. M. Lewis, John R. Hendrick, Lewis McQuown, S. J. Shackelford and South Trimble, Speaker of the House.

FRANKFORT IN DEEPEST GLOOM

WHEN E. C. W. VISITED THERE SUNDAY.

Frankfort was the dreariest, gloomiest place imaginable Sunday and many an eye unused to weeping shed tears when Gov. Goebel's death was recalled. "Democracy's leader is gone" was heard in almost every crowd. Men who had opposed him for the nomination and others who fought him in November were alike eulogizing the dead statesman for his many good traits, his love for the cause he gave his life for and the undaunted courage he displayed on all occasions. Though charged with being cold and immovable, Gov. Goebel's friends were many and the most loyal man ever had. Though he knew it not, they watched his every move, fearing what has happened, and when he went out, more than one friendly eye was kept on him.

The saddest looking man in the town was Col. Jack Chinn, who loved the dead man as he did a brother. The scene when he was admitted to the room where the corpse lay was a most pathetic one and showed plainly the big heart that beats in his manly bosom. Tears flowed from his eyes as he looked on the stilled form and impressed a kiss on the cold, silent lips. Col. Chinn truthfully says that he was with Mr. Goebel first in life and last in death.

Those who knew them well say there were never more devoted brothers than Messrs. Justus, William and Arthur Goebel and the survivors are almost heart broken. Mr. Justus is the more easily moved and his eyes have not been dry since he reached Frankfort. He arrived from Phoenix, Arizona, just an hour after his brother's death and the disappointment and grief at not getting to see him alive is almost greater than he can stand. After looking on the prostrate form Mr. Goebel said: "If there is a God in Heaven this foul murder will be avenged and vengeance visited upon the heads of all who are responsible for it."

The impression is that Gov. Beckham will try and carry out to the letter the policy Gov. Goebel had intended and that he will make a governor Kentucky will have reason to be proud of. He is a fine young man and has sufficient ability to make a model executive. Eyes are turned toward him now lest an assassin's bullet should hit him.

The soldiers are getting tired of their job and have the appearance of being homesick. The majority are tough looking and present about as bad an appearance as ex-Gov. Taylor's long haired intimidators.

I had a lengthy talk with Clark county's representative, Hon. Abe Rennie, a most ardent admirer of Gov. Goebel. He hooted at the idea of going to London and said that not even the bolting democrats will go. "Not unless I am arrested and taken, will I ever represent my constituency in London," said he.

The arrangements for the burial of Gov. Goebel were somewhat changed from the first report sent out. His remains were taken to Covington yesterday and after lying in state today and a part of tomorrow they will be brought back to Frankfort and interred Thursday in the cemetery. Later the body will be taken up and buried on the spot where he fell when the cowardly assassin's bullet struck him, and a handsome monument erected to his memory. It was hard for the family to consent to the burial of the dead governor at Frankfort, for they wanted him laid by the side of his parents in the Covington cemetery.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - FEB. 6, 1900

W. P. WALTON.

GOV. GOEBEL is dead! The shot that sped through his vitals at the trigger touch of a craven assassin did its deadly work surely but slowly, and at 6:45 Saturday night, the spirit of the greatest, gamest and grandest man of his day took its flight. For nearly five days he made an almost supernatural fight for life, but the odds were too great against him and for the first time this man, who won victories and overcame the gravest obstacles, surrendered. The prayers of women and all good people, irrespective of party, united and ascended to the Throne of Grace for his restoration, but He who moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, was inexorable and Goebel's life work was ended.

Though dead, he lives in the hearts of this people and the democrats, whose gallant leader he was, will see that he did not live and die in vain. They will carry forward the work he begun and never give up till justice is done and the cowardly and damnable promoter, aider and abettor of assassination is made to suffer for his crimes against human life and his flagrant usurpation of power. No one who knows the Butler county brute believes that he has sufficient courage to shoot a man, even in the back and from ambush, but no sensible person can gainsay that he is morally and legally responsible for the work of the man he hired to do it and whom he kept from arrest after he did it. The shots were from the building he occupied and immediately over it, he was the principal beneficiary of the crime and his shielding of the criminal, all go to prove a conspiracy to murder to which he was accessory, if not the originator. He must be punished and by the eternal he will be, if there remain any law in the land.

THE tax payers of the State may well consider where the money comes from to defray the extraordinary expense of the Taylor-Collier army at Frankfort. There are now assembled at the capital about 1,300 militia. The pay of these troops when employed in active service as they are now in law deemed to be, is as follows: Per day, colonel, $3; lieutenant, $2.75; major, $2.50; captain, $2.25; 1st lieutenant, $2; 2nd lieutenant, $2; 1st sergeant, $2; other sergeants and corporals $1.75; privates, $1.50. Beside this each officer and enlisted man is entitled to one ration per day, the same as in the army of the United States. Here is a spectacle for the people of the State to contemplate! The pay alone of these men is not less than $2,500 per day. Estimating that the cost of feeding them is 33¢ cents per day for each man, we have for this outfit the sum of $133 per day, which makes a total of about $3,000 per day. Every one can see that this estimate is much below the actual expense. And all this is for no other purpose than to keep in office two men, who the only tribunal designated by the constitution for deciding contests, has decided are not entitled to the places they claim. The money belonging to the State, which has heretofore been kept in bank has been carried out by sacks full and locked up in the building in which Taylor and Collier are barricaded. Meanwhile every State official is refused his salary—jurors and Commonwealth witnesses, idiot and lunatic claims, and in brief, all claims, however just and meritorious, are refused only that these troops may be paid, fed and quartered to prevent mutiny and desertion. How long are the people going to submit to these outrages?

If Taylor should continue to ignore the order of Judge Cantrill granting a temporary injunction against him and Collier from interfering in any manner with the Legislature, the judge will have it enforced. He knows his power to compel its obedience and he has the backbone to maintain the rights of his court. This he will do by ordering the sheriff of Franklin to summon the posse comitatus and if that is not sufficient every sheriff in the State will be so ordered. It is up to Taylor to refuse and take the consequences. Will he attempt to do it and add further out-laws to his crimes?

THE committee on elections in the House unanimously voted in favor of seating Oscar Turner from the Louisville district, the evidence so overwhelmingly supporting that verdict. Walter Evans, the contestant, will get $2,500 for expenses in making the contest and that was all he was after. It will serve as pin money for some time.

THE Legislature will pass a resolution offering $50,000 reward for the capture of the assassin who fired on Gov. Goebel. Taylor's friends ought to produce him and claim the money.

WHEN told that Gov. Goebel was dead and an expression sought from him, Taylor finally said: "I deeply regret his death." To hell with the dirty dissembler.

THE war in Africa pales into insignificance when compared with the one Taylor would thrust upon the Commonwealth.

Peace In Sight.

Conference Committee Agrees

Both Sides Making Concessions.

LOUISVILLE, 10.22 A. M.—Peace conference adjourned at 2.30 A. M., after agreeing on seven propositions substantially as follows:

1. Legislature to ratify adoption of contest board reports. Taylor and Marshall to submit.
2. All parties to unite in modifying election law, so as to provide for non-partisan boards.
3. Legislature not to be interfered with when it meets to ratify former action in contests.
4. Affairs to remain in statu-quo until next Monday.
5. State contest board to adjourn from day today until next Tuesday and not to dispossess minor republican officers till Legislature ratifies.
6. Troops to be immediately removed from Frankfort.
7. Republican officials and officers of the State guard to have immunity from charges of treason, usurpation, court martial or similar offenses. Taylor will immediately agree.

TIMES.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 5.—A conference between representatives of the democrats and republicans was called at 4:30. Blackburn, McCreary, Woodson and Thompson representing Beckham and Marshall, Farleigh and Dan Lindsey, Taylor, when it is hoped a peaceful settlement will be arrived at.

TAYLOR made a pitiful appeal to McKinley to come to his relief, but after Senator Blackburn and other democrats had explained that the democrats were pursuing only legal steps and would continue to do so, he told the usurper that he saw no reasons for Federal interference. For once in their lives the democrats have made no mistakes. They have stuck closely to the law and not permitted themselves to resist by force the indignities put upon them, but have pursued a perfectly peaceful tho' determined course, satisfied of the justness of their cause and knowing that Taylor and his crew will soon hang themselves if given rope enough. On the other hand by their utter disregard of law and the substitution of brute force, the conspirators have put themselves outside of the consideration of law abiding people of all parties and have lost even the moral support of their own party. Democrats are united as they never were before and when all legal means are exhausted and Taylor still holds out, they will wipe him and his vile crew off the face of the earth.

SINCE a conversation a year or two ago with Rev. T. T. Eaton, editor of the Baptist Recorder, and pastor of the Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, with reference to the Whitsett business, we have had considerable doubts as to his piety, but if he gave expression to the words, which Clem W. Huggins attributes to him in the Courier Journal of Sunday, he is only kept from being an assassin himself because he hasn't the courage to be. This is what he is reported as saying: "I could tell Gov. Taylor how he could get this matter of Goebel's being declared governor and the whole contest before the United States supreme court, and what's more, I am going to write Taylor and tell him to do it. I'm sorry that fellow (Goebel) was shot; I wanted to see him hanged."

FEARING that even a telegraph messenger might be a civil officer in disguise, Taylor has had two telegraph wires run into his office and he is now as completely shut out from the world as a convict in the penitentiary near by. The craven coward had his own filthy carcass protected by bayonets, but never once offered to furnish protection to the wounded man. He did not need it, however, for angels, in the form of women, watched his bedside and ministered to his every need, while faithful friends stood ready to die for their beloved chieftain. The one is execrated by all law loving people. The other's place in their hearts will ever be as warm as his page in history will be bright.

IN the Courier Journal of yesterday, Mr. Watterson arraigns the L. & N. railroad in a most terrific manner, charging that it and it alone is responsible for the present conditions at Frankfort and that a word from it would call off the dogs of war. It started out to destroy Gov. Goebel and having done so has brought upon the people of Kentucky the incalculable wrong and the dire disgrace of transactions unexampled in the history of republican government. Would that this terrible indictment were not untrue.

GOV. BECKHAM though a young man is not a new one in statecraft. He was Speaker of the last House and is a man of convictions, courage and determination. Adjutant General Castleman has served in two wars and is a brave, conservative and cool-headed man. Democrats can afford to rest easy with them in charge.

BECKHAM

Is Sworn In As Governor, And Appoints Castleman Adjutant General.

Shortly after the death of Gov. Goebel, Lt. Gov. J. C. W. Beckham was sworn into succeed him. He immediately issued a proclamation setting forth the facts of the death by assassination of one of Kentucky's greatest and noblest sons, whose high character for courage, manliness and honesty in the defense of the people led to his destruction, and ordering the militia and all violent characters to disband, lay down their arms and return to their homes and invoking the aid of the law-abiding people in restoring peace to the Commonwealth. He then issued an order removing Adjutant General D. R. Collier and his assistant, J. J. Dickson, and appointed Gen. John B. Castleman adjutant general. The latter accepted the office temporarily at much sacrifice to his private business, being impelled by a sense of duty in the hope of securing a peaceful solution of the difficulties which environ us. The general also said he would serve without compensation.

The Legislature outwitted Satrap Taylor and held a session at the Capitol Hotel Friday afternoon. Out of an abundance of caution the reports in the contests over Governor and Lieutenant Governor were readopted, recognizing Goebel and Beckham. The House and Senate took action separately, and then met in joint session, when the reports were again adopted. Speaker Trimble presided in the House meeting, and 56 members were present. The absent democrats were Van Meter, Rose, Orr and Hinton. Crider, who had been out heretofore, was present and voted. In the Senate 19 members were present. Senator McConnell was away from Frankfort. Other democratic absentees were Alexander, Hays, Gillespie and Roberts. Senator Triplett, who has heretofore held out, attended the meeting, and voted for the reports.

A petition for an injunction to restrain Taylor from interfering with the action of the Legislature and to prevent him from holding a session of the body at London, was sworn out Friday afternoon, returnable before Judge Cantrill Saturday. The sheriff was unable to serve the notice and Stenographer Alonzo Walker, was appointed a special bailiff. He succeeded in reaching Taylor's barricaded room and serving notice on him both by throwing a copy at his feet and by sticking one on the door, constituting a legal notice. Walker was immediately arrested by order of the promoter and instigator of assassination and lodged in the guard house.

When Taylor saw there would be a clash between the civil authorities and his partisan soldiers if he did not release Walker on the habeas corpus proceedings, he sneaked out of responsibility by having him released "on parole." County Judge Brown gave out that he intended to have the prisoner at all hazards and that with the further step that was to be taken before the Federal court at Louisville to secure his release, scared the frightened individual into a buck agree and the release was ordered very quickly. Walker will enter suit against Taylor, Collier and others for $50,000 damages for false imprisonment.

The notice of the injunction proceedings was ignored by the military despots, but they being constructively before the court, proper notice having been served on them, Judge Cantrill granted a temporary order restraining them from keeping the Legislature out of the Capitol building and from requiring them to meet in London. Hearing of the grounds for making the order permanent was fixed for next Thursday at Georgetown, where Judge Cantrill's court will be in session.

SHOWN one of Col. Breckinridge's editorials, in which he seems to express the sentiments and opinions of the party to which he has united his fortunes, Col. W. G. Welch said: Breckinridge's article is plausible but wholly disingenuous and false in its conclusions. I am afraid it is true that the first action of the Legislature in simply signing a resolution seating Goebel, was too irregular to be valid, although at the time it was the only possible way in which the Legislature will could be expressed. But this defect is now happily removed, since the Legislature Thursday night met by separate Houses and formally complied with all the requirements of the law.

So far from the democrats being revolutionary, usurpers, &c., the shoe is on the other foot. Taylor's every act since the assassination has been in violation of all law. No self-respecting lawyer will say that he had any authority to disperse the Legislature and direct them to meet at London or elsewhere. It is distinctly usurpation and an act of treason. It has been fittingly capped by the arrest and detention in a guard-house of a peace officer attempting to serve a process of court. These things are all most fortunate for the democratic party and its officers. It has cleared the situation of all doubts. It has made it the plain duty of all good citizens, of all honest men indeed, to unite in suppressing the gang of hoodlums at Frankfort from Taylor to Whit-taker and Sutton.

The retiring firm, A. Urbansky & Co, wishes to bestow their sincerest thanks to the people of Lincoln Co., for their generous and ever increasing patronage during the past 10 years. Their successors assure you that the prevalence of low prices that has gained its popularity in the past shall continue. Better facilities will even enable them to sell you goods at a smaller profit. That the management continues the same is a guarantee of prompt and polite attention.

THE LOUISVILLE STORE,

Salinger Bros., Prors.

T. D. Raney, Manager.

Hon. W. J. Bryan said: "It is a tragic ending of a brilliant life. Mr. Goebel's death will cause profound sorrow among democrats everywhere. The cowardly method employed to take his life shows the desperate character of the fight made against him by the republicans."

Several death masks of Gov. Goebel were made by Sculptor Barnborn Sunday and busts in marble and bronze will be made from them.

The Louisville Commercial, rep., has had enough and almost in so many words says it is time for Taylor to call off his dogs of war.

The Courier Journal says that the Legislature was ordered to London by order of the L. & N., which hopes to get big returns from passenger tolls.

There are indications that the shot which killed Gov. Goebel came from Taylor's office, but brothers of the dead statesman object to an autopsy to show the course of the ball.

Most of the democratic legislators made themselves scarce, as they feared arrest and transportation to London, and only a few met at the Capital Hotel yesterday when they adjourned subject to call.

Capt. Stone said with reference to the assassination, that it was a great outrage against society but Wat Hardin has not even said that much.

A gentleman at Corbin wrote to the authorities to "watch a certain former deputy sheriff (naming him) and press Sutton, he knows more than he has told."

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Barbourville company 90 men strong, has arrived and 37 republican legislators have put in their appearance.
FRANKFORT, Feb. 5.—The election commissioners have been admitted to the Statehouse. Attorneys were allowed to go in also. The commissioners adjourned at once. Meeting purely formal.

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY GOSSIP.

REV. R. B. MAHONY was in Louisville Saturday.

C. L. DAWES is getting up a tribe of Red Men at Pittsburg.

MISS NELLIE MERSHON is back from a visit to Richmond friends.

MR. AND MRS. ED PRICE, of Garrard, were guests of Dr. A. S. Price.

MRS. W. R. DILLON, of Livingston, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Coffey.

J. W. WATSON has rented and moved into the Helm property on Lower Main street.

MISS HELEN THURMOND went to Brodhead Saturday to begin a school yesterday.

MRS. KATE P. MILLER has returned from a visit to Mrs. H. R. Bright at Mt. Sterling.

J. W. SMITH, of Lowell, a valued friend of this paper, passed down to Louisville Friday.

ED WILKINSON and Ernest Warren assisted the Burgin K. of P. lodge in conferring degrees last night.

THE Fancy Work Club will meet with Mrs. Carroll Shanks and Miss Annie Shanks Thursday at 1:30 P. M.

AMONG the hundreds who sent telegrams of sympathy and hope to Gov. Goebel were Mrs. S. J. Emory, J. H. Miller and J. M. Alverson, of this place.

HON. P. M. McROBERTS came home Saturday night from Frankfort and yesterday when asked if he was going to London replied "Not that anybody knows of."

ATTORNEY B. B. GOLDEN, who was at first thought to have been fatally shot in the Colson-Scott fight at Frankfort, has sufficiently recovered to return to his home at Barbourville. When he passed through yesterday he told an I. J. representative that he was about himself again.

MISS ELIZABETH B. McELWAIN, of Franklin, a sister of Mrs. J. S. Owsley, Jr., has graduated in Osteopathy and has located at Adairville for the practice of her profession. Dr. McElwain is a highly accomplished lady otherwise and being an enthusiast over the art, will doubtless make a great success of it.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

NEW Battenburg materials at Severance & Sons'.

Now is the time to buy a Dains' Corn Crusher. Higgins & McKinley.

New lot of kid gloves just in. Remember we fit them to the hand. John P. Jones.

TELEPHONES won't do to depend on. We couldn't talk with Louisville at all this morning.

It rained all day Sunday and this morning a cold, dreary down pour was again the order.

JACK BEAZLEY is shaping his plans to open a furniture and undertaking establishment here. He has not just yet decided on the location.

LECTURE.—Mr. Charles Wheeler asks us to state that Wm. H. Woolley, of the Danville Theological Seminary, will lecture at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, Feb. 13, on "Fishers of Men."

CALLS yesterday for volunteers for the new State guard under Gov. Beckham resulted in 30 or 40 of the best young men of Danville responding and it is likely that that city will furnish two companies.

DEATHS.—James Denny, a brother of Mrs. A. T. Spratt, of Rowland, died Sunday morning of consumption, aged 26, and the remains were taken to Paint Lick for burial. An infant of Marion Beets, of Lebanon Junction, was interred in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The mother was a daughter of the late William Lanahan, of Rowland.

FLORAL TRIBUTE.—At the suggestion of Hon. Harvey Helm a subscription was started for a fitting floral tribute to send to decorate the grave of democracy's truest friend and leader, who was so foully killed by those who would profit by his death. Nearly every one asked contributed and in half an hour George Weatherford at Hustonville reported that he had raised $33 and could make it $50, if necessary.

NEW stock of bracelets, hearts and all kinds of jewelry at Hamilton's.

OUR embroideries and laces will surely please you. See them. John P. Jones.

COAL prices 9, 10, 11 and 12 cents at yard. One cent extra for delivery. J. H. Baughman & Co.

If you "eat to live" see us. If you "live to eat" we've got lots of good things. Warren & Shanks.

AUNT RACHEL HAYS, who claimed to have built the first house in Macksville, died Friday, aged about 90.

ARM BROKEN.—John Gooch, of the Gilberts Creek section, had his left arm broken at the elbow in a runaway Saturday.

OLD MOCK WHISKY.—G. D. Weatherford has a contract for full control and sale of Old Mock Whisky in Hustonville. H. C. Mock.

WE will not carry as large a stock of coal as we did last winter. A cold spell for 10 days will cause a coal famine here. J. H. Baughman & Co.

THERE seems to have been no doubt that the ground hog saw his shadow Friday, at least in these parts. So look out for six more weeks of winter.

THE Ladies Exchange will be open every Saturday afternoon. Special orders left at McRoberts' drug store during the week will be attended to.

THERE are some people here we verily believe who would openly applaud the assassination of Gov. Goebel if they were not afraid of harm to their carcasses.

COSBY.—Arthur Hill received a telephone message last night stating that his aunt, Mrs. E. C. Cosby, of Junction City, was dead. She had a complication of troubles and had been ill several weeks. Besides the husband two children survive.

THE open session of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Baptist church, advertised for Sunday night, was postponed for satisfactory reasons, till next Sunday night when the program published in this paper Tuesday last will be carried out.

QUIET.—A daily newspaper correspondent at London telegraphed that the place was so quiet Sunday that an ordinary Wednesday evening prayer meeting would be regarded as a roaring disturbance of the place in comparison with it.

POST-OFFICE.—A largely signed petition has been gotten up by Postmaster J. C. Florence asking that the post-office be removed from its pleasant location to Mr. D. W. Vandever's store-room. The reasons given for the change are that the lobby of the present office is too small, hard to be kept in the condition required by law and not at all suitable for the proper handling of the mails.

IN all the 25 years of our editorial life we have never had an issue complimented as the last one of this paper was. Letters, messages and personal commendation have been received from very many sources; all agreeing that we struck Taylor and his conspirators solar plexus blows and that our denunciation of them were well timed and deserved. Judge Sautley, who was in Danville, tells us that copies were in demand at 10c each, while Judge M. D. Hughes at Lancaster told us that he could have easily disposed of 100 copies at a big price.

UNCLE JOSH'S Picture Play, which will appear at Walton's Opera House, tomorrow, Wednesday evening, is described as both wonderful and amusing. The charming comedy of down East life and the trials and funny situations of Joshua Whitcomb on his first visit the metropolis are given by the aid of large pictures thrown upon the stage while the inimitable DeLong imitates the voice of each character and says his lines. In addition to the play Miss Evelyn M. Roth will favor the audience with vocal solos and Miss Beatie DeLong with "Plastique Poses," "Expressione" and "Serpentinea." Don't fail to attend.

IN the excitement over the outrages at Frankfort, our citizens should not forget that an attempt is being made before the Federal court to deprive Messrs. Hubble, Alverson and Embury of their rights as citizens for doing what they believed to be honest and right. It should be both a pleasure and a duty of every democrat to relieve them of all expense whatever of the prosecution by contributing even a small sum for it. To last report, Mr. E. C. Walton, appointed by County Chairman John W. Holmes to receive contribution, had

THE L. & N. will give a rate of one fare for the round-trip to Frankfort Thursday on account of the burial of Gov. Goebel.

The Cincinnati Southern will give the same rates.

ATTENTION LAW LOVERS!—A mass meeting will be held in the court house here Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to condemn the usurpation of Taylor and his course in shielding assassins. This is not to be a meeting simply of democrats, but of all who love law and order and despise assassins and usurpers. Let everybody come and show his hand in this hour of peril to the Commonwealth.

NO SPECIAL.—A number of democrats asked us to see if a special train could be chartered to Frankfort the day of Gov. Goebel's burial, and we communicated with Gen. Pass. Agent C. P. Atmore, of the L. & N., who said that as the company would give cheap rates, it was against the policy of the road to charter trains at such times. Those who wish to go can either drive to the Cincinnati Southern or leave here by the L. & N. at 2:05 A. M. to return 23 hours later.

THE feeling of indignation here over the outrages committed at Frankfort is shown on all sides and hundreds of our citizens express their willingness to aid the democratic governor in any way possible. Col. Welch telegraphed Gov. Goebel Friday night: "Command me if needed and Lincoln county will furnish a battalion for your service in 38 hours."

LT. Rowan Sautley, of this office, who saw service in the Spanish war, is raising a company of soldiers to offer their services to Gov. Beckham and many are signing the papers as members.

JUNCTION CITY.—A Michigan firm will put up a furniture factory in Junction City in the spring and build some 25 houses for its employees and others. The firm is said to have abundant means and the factory will be a big thing. An immense amount of lumber is being hauled here. Christian Bros., one of the lumber firms, have built a pretty little office in their yard on Shelby City street. Royston & Russell, the Junction City liverymen, have dissolved, Mr. Royston, who bought Rose's livery stable at Shelby City, retiring and going there. The talk of a bank is being revived and it is believed that one will be started this time.

DOINGS AT FRANKFORT.

Taylor to McKinley: "Listen to my tale of woe."

McKinley to Taylor: "Tell it to a policeman—I have troubles of my own."

—Louisville Times.

The State board of contest will meet at Frankfort today andoust the rest of the rascals in office.

A $50,000 monument is to be placed over the grave of Gov. Goebel, the money to be raised by private subscription.

The fiscal court of Franklin county has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the assassin of Goebel, and Taylor has also after much goading finally offered one of $500.

James L. Sutton, ex-sheriff of Whitley, and Harlan Whittaker, of Butler, who are held under the charge of assassinating Goebel, are doubtless the wrong parties. Taylor saw that the guilty wretches he hired got away.

State Treasurer Day has drawn from the Treasury banks all the State's money that had been on deposit, and it is being used to pay the expenses of Taylor's troops. The banks and merchants had refused to recognize Taylor's warrants.

Correspondents of certain papers, who by his grace was admitted to the room in which Taylor is practically a prisoner on his volition, say that he has a wild, scared appearance and looks and acts like a lunatic.

THE leading papers all over the country stand aghast at Taylor's insane defiance of the law and no democratic paper is harsher in criticism of him than such republican papers as the Chicago Post, Detroit Tribune, New York Tribune, Philadelphia Press and others equally as prominent. Taylor is sowing the wind and he and his party are sure to reap the whirlwind.

Because Mr. Goebel was proof against all the modern appliances of the corporations to attain their ends by blandishment, bribery or intimidation, and had personal courage of the first order, he became a leader, and the only leader in Kentucky whom corruption and corruptionists seriously feared. They could not buy him and they could not bully him. They had to cause him to be killed, and like the blowing up of the Maine in Havana harbor, his death will be the signal for such just retribution to them as came to Spain. It throws a flashlight upon the whole subject of the relation of the public corporations to the State and to the people. It is as a signal to honest and patriotic men of all parties to unite against the growing danger of monopoly. If William Goebel had survived these tragical times, nothing could have stood in the way of his going to the head of the people's column for physical and moral emancipation from the brute power of money. His death unites the democrats of the United States. All of us, from Maine to Texas, from New York to California, will dip our handkerchiefs in his blood, sworn to fight the fight out on that line if it takes the whole of the coming century.—Courier Journal.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Rev. R. B. Mahony went to Perryville yesterday to hold a meeting.

Rev. W. R. Davidson, of McKinney, closed a meeting in Wayne county which resulted in 26 additions.

Rev. W. B. Harrison, missionary from Corea, will lecture at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

I have just closed one of the most interesting meetings that I have held for a year at Maple Creek. A. M. Lambert.

Rev. R. Lin Cave has resigned as president of Kentucky University, and Prof. A. R. Milligan is acting. Rev. Cave will become pastor of a church at Independence, Mo.

J. T. Tate, of Shawhan, has purchased 334 sheep of J. Cook & Co., of Lexington, at $3.85. Brock & Railsback, of Clark county, bought of Zack Piper, of Bourbon, the lambs from 80 ewes at 5c.—News.

Hon. Abe Rennie, of Clark, sold last week a Shorthorn heifer for $300 and a bull for $500. By the way, our countyman, E. P. Woods, is gathering up a magnificent herd of Shorthorns and before long he will have a sale of them.

Z. T. & T. H. Smiley closed Saturday the best sale of business horses ever made in Lexington. Prices ranged from $100 to $600 and a large number brought $400 and over. The highest price was for a walk-trot gelding. Buyers were there from the East, South and West and the sale was satisfactory to both buyer and seller. R. W. Robbs, of Boston, bought a half dozen at $250 to $500.

George Faulkner and Miss Ida Hodge, popular Barbourville young people, were married last week.

H. O. Hoyt, of Birmingham, found his lost grand daughter at London after years of search. The young woman is Miss Dorsey Young and was bound out when a child to Manuel Nash. Her parents separated in 1892 and the mother was given custody of the daughter, but the father kidnapped her.
